

Every journey is a new lesson for us. In this journey of ours, we had many difficulties which made us realize that nothing is impossible if you really want it with your heart.

On our first trip to the school, it was a challenge since the school was in bad condition and the road trip was longer than we anticipated because our tire blew out. Even though we struggled, we managed to talk with the children and learned about their needs.

In order to provide all of their needs such as; clothing, stationery needs, etc., we needed money. To get the money we needed, firstly we added a donation box to our website that made us gain 300 Turkish Liras but that was not enough. So we decided to have a bake sale in our school which led us to have three bake sales to get the money we needed. To spread our bake sales, we handed out posters and stuck them to the common places that students go, in our school and we informed every class about the reason we are doing that by introducing the competition, our team, our team name, logo, and finally our aim which was making those children happy when they are at school and learning.

Beneath our aims, we also had goals to achieve in order to make their education sufficient and beneficial for them. Since they are the lights of our future, their education was the most important thing for us; to make their education sufficient, we provided them with stationary stuff such as; pencils, notebooks, colourful markers, paper, printer, etc., to make it beneficial, we provided them with sports materials, clothes to the pupils who are in need of it and we celebrated New Year by giving them little present so that they would be happy. Even though we supplied many things, there were some problems. For example, some of the kids could not get their presents on our first visit, we could not get answers from some celebrities that we emailed them about our project to get help and audience from them, also COVID19' appeared but that did not stop us. We started doing online lessons, French, Arduino and English lessons, from our Youtube channel and informed people from our Instagram account and we are planning to do it until June.

In conclusion, even though we had some problems during this project we still managed to do it. In the end, we are so grateful that we helped those children, and knowing that they are happy. If we had to give some tips it would be that regardless of the obstacles that you face during this beautiful journey, do not ever give up, do not even think about it. The reason we are here is that we did not give up even though we had many times that we wanted to give up, but the thing that kept us here was our aim which is making those children happy when they are at school and learning.
