August 2018 – Wildlife Garden run by friends of bush hill park.

The friends of bush Hill park are a group of volunteers that volunteer around the community and in particular the local park. They run a wildlife garden in bush hill park which is full of wildflowers, insects, ponds and more to attract wildlife and introduce young children to the outdoor beauties. As a child, I have been to the wildlife garden many times, The wildlife garden is educational and introduces me to many animals such as frogs and tadpoles, it has given me a love for insects and wildflowers as well as gardening and the environment. I go regularly with my family and the work the volunteers do to keep the garden healthy is tremendous. Unfortunately, there has been many vandalisms done to the precious garden, damaging the work that has been done.

Thankfully the talented team keep it better. The garden is hidden and most are unaware of it. There is lots of ways you can support the garden. For example, volunteering, litter picking, raising awareness and lots more. The garden is very important to me as I have been going for a long time and I hope with more people knowing about it, they will get the same joy I get from it.
